

SOCIALITIES.

Mrs. Terry and Miss Mills left for Cerulean Thursday.

Miss Bette Baker, of Cadiz is visiting the family of Mr. Orr.

Mr. J. M. Hester, of Louisville, was the guest of the Phoenix Saturday.

Col. James O. Cooper has gone to Cerulean to match yards with Jo. Griffin.

Miss Jennie Gary, of this county, is continuing for some weeks at Sebree Springs.

Mr. Jas. M. Howe and wife went down last week to spend some days at Cerulean.

Miss Susie Edmunds departed last Tuesday for Paducah, to visit her cousin, Miss Mary Burnett.

Mr. Fort, a young gentleman from Robertson county, Tenn., is visiting his friend Mill Tice.

Miss Emma Glass departed last week for that delectable summer resort, Cerulean Springs.

Miss May Palmer, of Springfield, Tenn., was the guest of Mrs. J. W. Lander, last week.

Miss Willie Faulkner who has been visiting friends in Paducah for some weeks, has returned home.

Mr. B. O. Welch and his daughter Miss Duggie, left for Sebree Springs last Friday, to remain several days.

Marshall P. M. Owen, who has been quite sick recently, has resumed his duties, though looking rather emaciated.

Mr. Jos. S. Cohn and wife will celebrate their silver wedding next Thursday night 24th inst., by receiving a select company of their friends.

Our clever young friend Clarence Gold, of Clarksville, spent several days in the city last week. We won't tell you this time, Clarence, don't be alarmed.

Messrs W. B. Dorich and M. McMurray, of Nashville, and C. C. Bell, of Springfield, Tenn., were among the prominent buyers on the tobacco board last week.

Messrs Marshall Foulks and Larkin Lindsay, of this city, left last week for Louisville, Col. They entertain high hopes of speedily accumulating a colossal fortune.

Hon. A. H. Clark returned to the city Wednesday, during a short cessation of his political canvass. His party papers speak in very complimentary terms of his speech at Dixon.

Among the charming young ladies visiting the city, are Misses Kate and Ione Newman, of Rome, Ga., who are the guests of Mrs. S. G. Buckner. They made many friends and admirers during their visit here last summer, and Hopkinsville society gladly welcomes their return.

Miss Ada Trice, of Hopkinsville, is visiting Miss Jessie Carr.—(Princeton Banner.)

Miss Ada returned home last week much to the delight of her many friends. She has been absent several weeks, part of the time visiting Miss Lena Bolinger, of Mayfield.

We regret to announce that Capt. Gaines will be debarred the pleasure of participating in the giddy dance for some time. He severely sprained his ankle recently at Cerulean by an accidental fall, and is hardly able to walk with a stick. He mentioned in a recent issue of his paper a young man who went to the ball on the 4th, and slept till time to return. Probably the water down there possesses soporific properties, and the Capt. was taking a somnolent stroll, while under the influence of it when he fell.

IMPROVEMENTS.

A new house is being erected by Mr. Nansen, on the corner of Clay and South streets.

Mr. Wm. Cowan is making preparations to erect a house on the vacant lot adjoining Mr. Hord's, on South Main street.

The Presbyterian church has recently had some very material repairs made upon it, in having the doors painted, etc.

Many other houses have been repaired and otherwise improved in the southern part of the city, greatly adding to their appearance.

The houses occupied by Messrs E. L. Foulks, P. M. Owen, and R. B. Rutherford have just been greatly improved in appearance by a fresh coat of paint.

Mr. Frank Waller is having his house on Maple street recovered and repaired generally. A carpenter's rule was found under the old roof which had been there forty years, and was still as good as new.

We have recently been over the grounds of the new cemetery, being laid off by Mr. Benj. Grove, a skillful engineer of Louisville. They present a most symmetrical and beautiful appearance, and it is to be hoped that the whole will be finished by the man Mr. Grove will leave, and be planted in trees, so that they can be coming on. We think the council intend laying off only part of it now, but they should realize the importance of doing it all at once. The hands are sufficiently experienced now to proceed under the direction of Mr. A. V. Townes, who is superintending it, without the supervision of Mr. Grove, and the work should be finished by all means.

HERE AND THERE.

Next Monday is quarterly court. Didn't we have some weather, though, last week?

Guests are flocking to Cerulean from every direction.

A protracted meeting is in progress at the Christian church.

Less than two weeks till the election. Rally! Democrats, rally!

"Doctor" McKenzie at the Court-house next Monday. Audite.

The St. L. & S. E. Railroad went into the hands of the L. & N. Road last Saturday.

Mr. Otto G. Lander has quit the printing business, and is now engaged as traveling agent for this paper.

The Chalybeate water from Sebree is recommended for children—try it. Received daily and sold by S. H. Turner.

The financial question is the all important one of the day. It is receiving the attention even of fair sex. One charming Miss on Maple street has declared herself in favor of Gold.

Another mad dog was killed in the southern part of the city Sunday evening. The first intimation of its disease was an attempt to bite some children. This matter should receive the attention of the proper authorities, and the dog laws be enforced.

Hon. James A. McKimble, "Christian's favorite son," will address the citizens of this county at the Court-house next Monday. Every man in the county should be proud to have such an able Representative in Congress, and should turn out to hear him to a man, irrespective of opposing political predilections.

Mr. Jas. L. Wahl, lately of Paducah, will open a mammoth Jewelry establishment in the Queen's warehouse of Mr. E. Reichert, on Main St., about the first of August. Mr. Wahl was born at Elkton, and his father was a professor of music in this city from '52 to '58, and is well remembered by many of our citizens. He has established an enviable reputation as a jeweler in Paducah and is withal a clever young gentleman and straightforward business man. He will keep a full stock of the best jewelry always on hand and will execute work in the most satisfactory manner. We are always glad to welcome enterprising business men to our town, and consequently we will be glad to receive Mr. Wahl as such, and bespeak for him a liberal share of patronage.

POLICE NEWS.

A PLUCKY YOUNG LADY.

One night last week some one entered the house of Mr. T. C. Hanberry, near Pea Dee, while Mr. H. was from home. The family were sleeping in a room above, and were aroused by hearing the burglar turn over a chair. His daughter, Miss Cordie, seized a pistol, ran to the upper window and fired at the villain as he escaped from the room below, but unfortunately missed him. No doubt his motive was robbery. He was seen as he ran off but could not be recognized in the darkness.

TERRIBLE MELÉE.

The peaceful tranquillity which has reigned in the city for some days was disturbed Wednesday night by one of the most exciting melees that has occurred for months. The scene of the conflict was a boarding house on Nashville street, and the engagement took place around the festal board. Like the avalanche, it began in a manner hardly perceptible, but gradually increased in power until, with a terrible crash, it swept everything before it. A difference of opinion, it seems, existed between two men, named Meade and Bowman, and word brought on word until they began to emphasize their statements in a pugilistic manner. The proprietor of the house, with the assistance of one of the guests attempted to quell the riot, when the combatants turned upon them, and soon the fight was raging with an awful fury. Plates, cups, saucers, knives, forks, and dishes were hurled through the air in every direction. Bowman was struck with a glass of milk, and the red and white were mingled. Meade was likewise hit with a sugar bowl, and his hair and clothes were begrimed with blood and sugar, which trickled down into his collar and ears, but still they fought. Dishes of gravy, butter, preserves and the like continued to fly. Disembodied legs and limbs (of fowl), were strewn around the room promiscuously, and the table looked as if some besom of destruction had swept over it, crushing everything in its course. We know not how peace was secured, but when the smoke of battle cleared away, every man engaged in it was found to be wounded, some of them, however, seriously.

Notice of Absence.

I shall leave to-morrow, with my family, to visit my old home in North Carolina, and shall probably be absent four or five weeks. I have to gratefully thank my patrons for past favors and beg an excuse for my present absence. Due notice will be given of my return. Very Respectfully, R. D. FLEMING.

The Early Bird, manufactured at Lynchburg, Va., by Mr. Carvel is now superseding all other brands of smoking tobacco, is sold at same price as Durham's and is three grades better. When it is remembered that Mr. Carvel holds the medals for manufacturing the best for smoking in the world, you will be eager to try Early Bird the best in the market. Address CARVEL'S EARLY BIRD TOBACCO WORKS, Lynchburg, Va.

The Providence Amateurs.

The Amateur Dramatic Company appeared at Mozart Hall last Tuesday night, and presented the two dramas "Little Treasure," and "Id on Paris Français." We know it is the custom with most newspapers to ignore the faults and laud the virtues of such entertainments, but believing that an honest opinion should always be expressed, we will, while commending the better parts, endeavor to delicately point out the deficient ones. The first piece was "Little Treasure," and "Gertrude," the heroine, was personated by Miss Bettie Howell, in a manner that reflected great credit upon her, and showed that she possessed real dramatic talent. Miss Lyle's personation of "Grandma" was also rendered in an acceptable manner, though as the character was an unimportant one, her opportunities for displaying her powers as an actress were not good. Miss Ford's acting was characterized by less animation and vivacity, though her words were distinctly and audibly uttered. The hero, was personated by Mr. Rufus Rhodes, and his rendition of the part evinced the fact that he was peculiarly adapted to the personation of the character, which was that of a bashful lover. Mr. Smith did not throw enough vim into his part, but upon the whole did well. Mr. Martin acted well but did not have perfect control of his voice. He must be accustomed to public speaking, as at times his words were uttered in a declamatory tone.

The second piece was decidedly humorous, but for lack of space we cannot undertake to give a synopsis of it. The characters were represented by Messrs Ford, Craddock, Lyle, and Howell, and Messrs Mattill, Martin and Smith. The acting of all was equally as good as it was in the first piece, and that of Mr. Mattill was especially commendable. He is certainly excellently adapted to the carrying of humorous parts. What we have said has not been in a spirit of derogation, for we are bound to admit that the company possesses merit of no small pretensions. Our criticisms have been made, placing them upon a level with professionals, and of course the standard is much higher than if merely as amateurs. As amateurs they are at the top, but as compared with professionals they have their faults.

Laying aside our remarks which may seem to them a little severe, we will say that their visit gave universal satisfaction to all, and even those who insisted upon comparing them with professionals, had to acknowledge that they had seen many troupes not near so good. We hope the Amateurs will visit us again, and we will cordially welcome them. They cleared about $40, which is to be appropriated to the Sunday Schools of New Providence. The house was not large on account of the excessive, but warm weather.

There is but one point of difference between Dr. Prewitt and Mr. Pratt as to the Crofton affair. Mr. Pratt does not deny the secret meeting but says there was no agreement. We would not impute to him a falsehood for we do not think he would knowingly misrepresent, but his memory has certainly failed him in this instance. Dr. Prewitt says he is responsible for the statement that there was a positive verbal agreement and that they both had observed it upon previous occasions. At the Democratic barbeque at Madisonville on July 2d, Dr. Prewitt was loudly and urgently solicited to speak. We were standing near and asked "Dr. why don't you give us a speech?" "Because," said he, "it would be treating Mr. Pratt unfairly." And he refused to speak. At the Republican barbeque here Saturday, Mr. Pratt again violated the agreement and spoke at length. "Look on this picture and then on that."

Deaths.
Died, at his residence, a few miles South of this city, on the 17th inst., Geo. Buckner, in the 61st year of his age.
He was one of the best and most highly respected citizens of the county, and his death falls with crushing weight upon the family and friends.
Died, at his residence at the Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, at 2 A. M., July 19th, Capt. Thos. Malloy, in the 54th year of his age.
The deceased was a son of Wm. Malloy, and was born in Montgomery county, Tenn. He married a Miss Pollard, of Caldwell county, Ky., who has been dead for some years. He leaves two daughters, one of whom is married, the other a young lady, was the only person present when his father passed away. About 1 o'clock he called to her to come to him, as he was very sick, but he soon got easier and she returned to her room, till a few minutes later hearing him breathing very hard, she ran to him and found him much worse. She then ran for Dr. Stone near by, and when he returned he was unconscious. Dr. Stone immediately returned for Dr. Rodman, and when they arrived he was dead. His disease was apoplexy. He had been Steward at the Asylum for ten years, and was a man revered by all who knew him. He joined the Baptist church at an early age. He was a man of worth in any community, possessing those sterling qualities that go to make up the courteous, honorable and affable gentleman. His loss will be deeply felt by all who knew him, and his place will be hard to fill at the Asylum. The afflicted relatives have our heartfelt sympathies.

The Republican Barbeque.

Last Saturday was the day appointed for the grand rally of the Republicans, without regard to age, sex, color, race, or previous condition of servitude. At an early hour the streets were thronged with people, mostly negroes, and the hack-drivers kept up a continual clatter, expatiating upon the good qualities of their respective conveyances.

After dinner we went out to see, and hear, and learn what we could that would be of interest to our readers. Dinner was not quite over, and a large table was arranged under the trees, which was surrounded by the motley crowd. Another table was spread in the Floral Hall, which was well supplied with nicely cooked provisions for invited guests. We learned that Mr. Feland and Mr. Pratt had spoken. By the way, Mr. Pratt, whom we found to be a very social, genial gentleman, informed us that there had been no agreement made between him and Dr. Prewitt as to the speaking. The latter, however, emphatically asserts the contrary, so there must be a mistake on one side or the other. But we will leave that to be settled by the gentlemen themselves, having implicit confidence in our standard bearer. After the crowd had been fed they began to call for more speeches. Mr. Jas. Breathitt was the first called out and came gracefully forward. Jim is an eloquent speaker and made a good speech, but marred it in the conclusion by flouting that old disputatious rag, the "bloody shirt" of his party. He was followed by some colored speakers whom we did not stay to hear. Comparatively a small number of white people were in attendance. The whole thing was a disappointment to the managers. They not only failed to get the speakers invited, but also to secure a large attendance. It will take several like it to defeat the gifted Prewitt.

TRENTON.

Jim Franklin, while prizeing tobacco last Friday, had his leg broken and very badly mangled by the beam splitting and falling on him. He was doing well at last accounts.

Miss Lizzie Ware and Mr. G. E. Garretts are visiting the springs at Sebree this week.

Miss Florence Edmunds has gone to Louisville to spend her vacation with friends and relatives there, but will return in time to assist Prof. Pointer in his school next fall.

Cross Wood asked me not to "give him away" about that, and I won't.

Tuesday morning seven buggies started out of Trenton, bound for Dunbar's cave. As the day was very warm and sultry, we did not get there till about noon. We were detained waiting for the young ladies to get ready most of that time. We spent the morning very pleasantly, and after dinner some of us drove into Clarksville to get some ice-cream and sherbet. One young man got very much discomfited because one of the Clarksville boys took his sweetheart away from him and went off to Clarksville. He seemed disposed to blame every one who went to Clarksville. Coming home Joe Williams' horse was choked down and rolled over on his back. Joe, in endeavoring to disentangle his horse from the harness, was kicked flat on his back. It was very amusing and cheerful. The party arrived home about eight o'clock, and the young ladies of the Baptist church, assisted by a few special friends, will give an ice-cream supper at the Hall Tuesday night, July 22d. They look for a large delegation from Hopkinsville.

Miss Addie Sims is visiting her pretty little country cousin, Miss Mary Perkins. Tatley took sick.

Miss Addie Sims is visiting friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. Dr. Dickinson, Miss Etta Dickinson, and Miss Ella Canabian were to Clarksville Wednesday, after an ice-cream supper, (3) to make ice-cream and sherbet for the supper Tuesday night.

BELEVIEW.
We realize and heartily enjoy the delightful political calm we are now having, for it can't last long.

The Rev. McCall, a recent mover to this place, commenced a school at Black Jack Academy on Monday last with a good attendance, considering the oppressive weather.

All of the rocks in the "Green cave" have been blasted and removed, and we understand that arrangements have been made to remove all between this point and the western end of old Bellevue, much to the pleasure of many.

"Squire Donally presented to Dr. Cullom last week, two Irish Parrots, which are attracting a good deal of attention. The "Squire" purchased them in Cork, Ireland, one month ago, paying $30. for the pair.

Mrs. J. L. Smith and grandson left for Dinwiddie county, Virginia, last week, where they will spend a few weeks visiting their old friends and relatives.

Mrs. M. B. Thomas and Miss Benjie, her daughter, are visiting friends in Pembroke.

Misses Linnie Lander, Lucy Stevenson and Annie Roper, of Hopkinsville, are spending a few days with Mrs. McQuaid.

Dr. Jesse Cullom returned from Sebree Springs on Saturday last, much improved in health, but he is quite unwell yet. He is now at Cerulean.

About sunset Saturday afternoon, John Torian and Allan Parrish, two colored men, while returning from a brandance at "Smoot's bridge," engaged in a difficulty, when Parrish drew a revolver and shot Torian in the thigh, inflicting a very serious if not fatal wound.

CROFTON.

Notwithstanding the fact that the weather is very dry, Henry Long can afford to sprinkle our streets at a cost of only $4.00.

Some gentlemen from South Christian were here purchasing goods this week. We understand they paid 2 1/2 cents for them.

Don't call us gifted Mr. Local. We are not gifted, we are a worker; only this and nothing more.

Mr. David Woodbridge, of Springfield, Tenn., sent us a magnificent pointer pup a few days since, for which we are, as the girls say, ever so much obliged.

Watermelons are beginning to ripen. We have as fine a patch as a crow ever flew over. We have bought a half-pound strychnine, borrowed three bull dogs, hired two tramps to guard it, and the man who crosses that fence must leave hope behind.

We went to Madisonville to hear Breckinridge. He is the finest orator we ever heard. Didn't have any friends there to give us dinner: went down to the hotel and ate everything there but two radishes. It is beyond doubt one of the grandest accomplishments on earth to know how to get invited to dinner.

The candidates for Senator and Representative spoke here Tuesday. We were busy and did not get to hear them. We understand political excitement ran high. This is all foolishness, boys, you ought not to get angry. It will do no good, argue the question like men, and part in a good humor. Well, after all, it does seem to us like this mad thirst for office certainly is a very disagreeable feeling.

The colored men, urged on by the men who want to sell whiskey or some other thing, are trying to get up a picnic near here.

We are suffering here for rain, the thermometer is in the nineties, the heavens look hot and the sun shines furiously. A half a million bed bugs tramp over us, Weston like, from dark until daylight, and still we are expected to "treat everybody politely."

Butler Candler gave a ball last week which was a ball. Ben Croft played second fiddle and we tell you it was done right. Ben is not a natural musician, his talent lies sawlogward. What he knows about music is acquired, nevertheless he is a good player.

We have just learned that Mrs. Altman, Woodbridge, who was on her way to Oregon, died near San Francisco, Cal. a few days ago. She was one of the kindest, purest women we ever knew. She suffered for long years pangs that no mortal can describe; at last they are over, and she sleeps peacefully away out yonder on the golden slope, but God and Heaven are as near her there as here.

The old field school is open and yet tow headed urchin is in his glory. As we go to school our crop and sat down to rest, our housekeeper began to shout "you must fix a turnip patch."

While in Madisonville the other day we were greeted by a very fine Claude Berry, local editor of the Times. He is the handsomest young man in that city.

We bet a horse to day than Hon. John Feland would be elected.

CERULEAN SPRINGS.

Dusty and dry.
Health exceedingly good for warm weather.

Uncle Harvey Lander says he is doing a better business than any man in town, and has broken up four dry goods houses in the last three years.

We haven't quite as much "human nature" round about Cerulean as our friend Shortfellow reports at Bellevue; the blackberry crop is an entire failure.

Mercedes delectable visited our realm again last week, seeking whom he might devour. He found no easier prey than that of a little son of Joe Smith, whom he seized and carried away.

Crops are generally good, corn especially. Tobacco is doing well, except late plantings, which don't seem to get a start to grow. Wheat is all threshed and the yield was better than most farmers expected. The fruit crop is nearly a total failure.

W. A. Goodwin, a merchant at this place, has lately closed out his business, and now walks around with his lips half cocked, singing the old song "Goin to jine de county band children, etc." which, of course, means that he is going west. We suppose he is one of Uncle Harvey's victims.

Dr. A. B. Cullom has rented the property formerly occupied by Wm. A. Goodwin.

Last Saturday was the day set apart by Mr. Watkins, tax collector of Trigg, to meet his friends at this place and receive payment of taxes. Mr. Watkins came, but strange to say he enjoyed but few handshakes and spent a very lonesome day.

Mr. Harper is doing a flourishing business during this dry weather. He has quite a number of regular guests, and all seem to be enjoying themselves finely. There is room for plenty more.

STEVE CLIPP.

Greenback Speaking.

Hon. Jobb Clark and Dr. W. M. Faqua will address the people, white and black, at Hopkinsville, Saturday night at 8 o'clock, July 26th, 1879. Monday, July 28, at Casky, 3 o'clock. Pembroke, July 29, 3 o'clock. Barker's Mill, July 30, 3 o'clock. Hensleytown, July 31, 3 o'clock. Carrettsburg, August 1, 3 o'clock. Lafayette, Aug. 2, 10 a. m. Bennettstown, Aug. 2, 3 p. m. Competitors invited to participate.

CHOICE SEED OATS.

I have for sale about 50 bushels of Red Winter Oats—just fresh. They are acknowledged superior to any other oats who have been seen here. I raised on 4940 square yards thirty bushels, sown late in the spring. Had they been sown in the fall I have assurances from a very reliable gentleman in Henderson, (from whom I obtained the seed) that the yield would have been twice as large. They are just better than anything else of the kind. Address me at once. J. H. BRADSHAW, Longview, Ky.

Don't forget to buy you a solid silver watch for $10 at Mills' Jewelry Store.

SEED WHEAT.

I have for sale at the Hopkinsville Elevator, six or seven hundred bushels of Virginia Boughton, or Tappan-hannock seed wheat—product of seed obtained in Virginia two years ago. White wheat. Call at the elevator and see it at once. M. B. KING, July 15, 21.

The Result.

[Paraphrase.]

Congress has adjourned. Most everybody knows it, but for the fear some may not, we repeat that the Congressmen have gone home. The work of the extra session has been summed up as follows:

Eleven measures of importance have been passed: Of the four political bills, three have become laws. The Army bill, with its prohibition of the use of the army as a police to keep the peace at the polls. The bill repealing the odious jurors' test-oath; and the bill providing a new and non-partisan method of drawing jurors. The Marshall's bill, with its restrictions to prevent the employment of Deputy Marshals to interfere in elections, has failed to become a law; but the failure deprives the administration of any money to pay them. It also deprives the United States Marshals and their regular Clerks, Deputies of their fees, but does not deprive them of their salaries, which are provided for in the Legislative and Executive Appropriation bill, which should be added to the total as the twelfth important measure passed upon.

Of the financial bills only one became a law, the bill making subsidiary silver coins exchangeable for greenbacks in amounts of twenty dollars or less, and the Warner bill, to make trade dollars exchangeable for standard dollars, dollar for dollar, passed the House, but both were hung up in the Senate Committee on Finance until next December.

The Sanitary Bill is known as the Yellow Fever Bill, and establishes a National Board of Health, with general supervision of the sanitary condition of the country. The Internal Improvement Bill is the bill establishing a Commission to make a survey of the Mississippi river and report upon the best method of protecting the banks from overflowing, and improving the navigation of the river. The Tariff Bill is the bill already mentioned, placing quinine and salubrious of quinine on the free list; and the Salary Bill is known as the Letter Carriers' Bill, and provides for a small increase in the salaries of the Letter Carriers all over the country.

England's Millionaires.

London, writes a correspondent of the New York Times, still manages to sell large quantities of works of art, and the merchants and manufacturers of the North are still among the chief patrons of the art and auction rooms. The finest galleries of the most costly collection of modern days have been made by the cotton kings of Manchester, the merchant princes of Liverpool and the midland manufacturers. Another circumstance worth remembering is that most of these rich art collectors have been the architects of their own fortunes. Indeed, the majority of the wealthy men of business in England have either made their own fortunes or sprung from some poor, clever industrial man, who, like Richard Crawshaw, has laid the foundation of the house. Here are a few examples: Kipler, the member of Parliament for Bradford, who owns half the town is self-made. His father and mother used to attend the market. The father of Bass, the great brewer was in a very small way of business, and his mother sold yeast in a little shop. The late Admiral's father kept a small news agent's store in London. Mr. Walter, member of Parliament, dates back, I believe, to his father's humble printing office in the city. Mr. Johnston, who, left behind him the Standard, worth $150,000,000 a year, besides real estate, was an officer in the old bankruptcy court. The late Herbert Ingram, member of Parliament and founder of the Illustrated News, kept a little drug store at Nottingham. Mr. Lawson, chief proprietor of the Telegraph, from which he draws for half his share quite $150,000,000 a year, was the commercial representative of an ink house. He is now one of the rich commoners of England. He reports that his income is over $600,000 a year. This, of course, does not begin to approach the incomes of the wealthy men of England who have inherited as well as made fortunes. Robert Crawshaw had at least $35,000,000 left by his father. How much he has made or lost I don't know. He gave his daughters wedding gifts that would buy a German dukedom. But, talking of newspaper men, Labouchere, in spite of the newspapers and theatres, pays income tax on $100,000 a year. He was robbed some time since by forgers on his bank of $75,000, extending over some months, without being aware of it. The bank called his attention to some irregularity, which brought the fraud to light.

Queen of the Oven.

A biscuit made with Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is certainly the queen of the oven. So light, white and enjoyable! After breakfasting on biscuits made with Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, what man would contemplate suicide, or grumble because his wife asked him for money?

What We Trust Him for.

It is one of the peculiarities of the child in infancy that one of his earliest developments is a genius for finance. At Lafayette, recently, a gentleman who teaches a class in Sunday school, by way of illustrating a certain point, took from his pocket a new dollar, and asked: "What is this?" A little fellow responded: "Ninety-two cents."

We do Not Wonder.

We do not wonder that housewives who have been accustomed to use Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts should turn disgust from the trash often sold under the name of Flavoring Extracts, which stink and tastes like turpentine. Dr. Price's Flavoring Extracts have the tastes and odor of the fresh fruits.

Witnesses in Felony Cases Entitled to Pay.

The decision of the Court of Appeals, (Judge Hines delivering the opinion), published Saturday, in a case taken up from Jefferson Circuit Court, wherein Judge Jackson had decided that the Revised Statutes had repealed the act of 1796 allowing commonwealth's witness in felony cases pay for attendance, reverses that portion of the decision of Jackson, declared that the old statute is not repealed, and that said witnesses are entitled to pay for attendance upon sessions of court. This will be good news to all witnesses whose compensation was suspended pending proceedings in the appellate court, as well as a $300,000 raid on the Treasury.—[Breckinridge News.]

Positive Women.

With strong convictions for the true and the right in all matters pertaining to their family affairs, women who have sound judgment and capacity for intellectual force, never acquiesce in the exercise of duty, regardless of the opinions of others. She sees her daughter or sister, with languid eyes, loss of color to the cheeks, lost appetite, disturbed slumbers, a feeble, tottering gait, and complaining of headache, palpitation and general indisposition. With a keen intellect she soon ascertains the cause of all these female troubles, and at once sends for Dr. Brown's Female Health Bitter, which she knows will effect a cure.

Habitual Constipation.

Is generally difficult to cure if you lead a closely confined life. You have resorted to pills, but they are too strong and sickening to take all the time. The best informed people use a Saline purgative which is mild, cooling and pleasant, and far preferable to pills and cathartics that act violently and effectually and free from pain. That remedy is Bailey's Saline Aperient. It sparkles and foams like a glass of soda water, is as pleasant as cooling in summer, and relieves habitual constipation, cures sick headache, dizziness, heartburn, etc., and for dyspepsia it has no superior. Only 25 cents per bottle containing two doses, which place it in reach of the mechanic and laboring man.

Do You Shake?

Throw aside your quinine if it effects your head too much, and cannot be retained by a delicate stomach. Discard your pills, they will not cure you. Send for Dr. J. M. Hipkins' Pro's. Tonic. It will cure you permanently of all forms of chills and fever, periodical headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc. It produces no unpleasant feelings, about the head. It requires no other medicine, as it performs all that necessary to be done in the permanent cure of chills and fever, and all malarious diseases. Chronic cases are cured at once.

LOST!

It is an Established Fact

That Quinine or Cinchonida will stop Chills, and for this purpose there is no better remedy. But it is also an established fact that they do not remove the cause that induces the Chills. For if they did, the Chills would not return on the 7th, 10th, 21st, or 28th day. Then is it not money lost to attempt to permanently cure Chills with Quinine or Cinchonida, when they do not remove the cause from the system that produces them? For until the cause is removed, the Chills will return. The is warranted to remove every cause from the system that produces the Chills, and if it fails to do this you will sustain no loss, for every drugstore is authorized to guarantee a permanent cure in every case, no matter how long standing, and will refund the money if the Chills return after you are through taking. Test it. It contains no poison, and is perfectly tasteless. Sold by GRAY & BUCKNER, and a permanent cure guaranteed in every case.
